Beautiful and wearable artistic shapes are Amenda Tates' focus. A Tate Jewelry Design Metalsmithing "brings together objects that can be organic and mechanical as a functional format: adornment". Her jewelry is exquisite. Her necklaces are body sculptures. The contrast between the human skin and the metal creates a striking image. Her works can be found on the "retailers" page at www.amendatate.com. Events showcasing her pieces are also listed on her site.

Tate started studying in Iowa and finished her Bachelor's of Fine Arts with an emphasis in Crafts – Jewelry/Metalsmithing at Metropolitan State College of Denver. She is greatly influenced by Joan Miro as well as Alexander Calder, Pablo Picasso and Fernand Legar. Tate wants to balance business expansion with personalized attention by keeping production in-house and managing the complexities of the business head-on.
